CHAPS

Premium Chaps

It all started with leather repair work in the basement of Bob Schild's parents. Bob made belts, wallets, purses, and etc. to make extra income during the start of his rodeo career. He went on to win the 1954 Intercollegiate Championships in both Saddlebronc and Bareback riding. He was also twice runner-up for the Intercollegiate All-Around Title in 1953 and 1954.

After graduation in 1954 he began a successful full-time professional rodeo career. During this time he carried a sewing machine and some supplies in his camper while traveling to rodeos and made rodeo chaps and other items for extra income. He continued with his professional rodeo career until he and his wife Gay opened B Bar B Leather in a tiny shop located on Main street in Blackfoot, Idaho in 1961.

Bob continued to compete part-time in rodeo until 1969 to support the new business and new family. Bob and his wife Gay operated and expanded the store with a commitment to quality and values which they taught to their three sons. They turned-over the business to their son's Jeff, Shawn, and Kelly in 1994. B Bar B Wholesale was started in 1996 to help increase business to a level that could support all three brothers and provide retirement for their parents. B Bar B Wholesale has followed the same commitment to quality and values as was shown by Bob and Gay during their 33 years of hard work and care for their customers.

We hope to continue that level of service and will do our best to provide the best value and service for our customers. We understand that without you, our very important customers, we would not have a successful business.

Best Wishes to you all,
Kelly Schild

Chap & leather information

Leather Types

In this catalog, when describing chaps, we will list either a specific leather color or list the color as "earthtone". These leathers are discussed below in more detail.

"Earthtone Leather", which we also may refer to as "basic leather", is leather that we buy in larger bulk at a lower price level. The leather that is currently available in the leather market is what we have to choose from and the colors and textures are almost never the same. This limits our choices but provides the customer with a good quality but lower priced leather. This is why "Basic Chaps" are available in what we call "Earthtone" colors. When buying chaps that are made of this leather the customer has only a choice of the leather that is currently in stock and will not have special colors to choose from.

We also stock some standard colors of leather that we sometimes refer to as "deluxe leather". This leather is normally more expensive than the average "earthtone" or "basic" leather. The cost may also vary significantly by color. This leather is generally available in rust, chocolate, black, buckskin and white. We also keep some standard colors in metallic leather some other colorful leathers normally used for trim on rodeo chaps. We also stock some standard colors in suede leather. We can also special order many other leathers and normally receive them within a few days.

The shades of color of all leather may vary from batch to batch, so the leather may not be the exact color shown in our pictures. If we offer "rust", the customer should expect some difference in shades of color. If a customer is wanting a very specific shade of a color, they should contact us to see if it is available, however, it is usually nearly impossible to match an exact color for a customer. Even leather that is tanned by the same process by the same tannery will vary in shade from batch to batch.

Basic Chaps

Our pricelist lists two main types of chaps called "Basic Chaps" and "Deluxe Chaps." "Basic Chaps" are fully functional chaps that leave out the fancy options. They are our base model to which other options can be added at additional cost.

They come with the following standard specifications:

Leather - chap body is typically 4.5 to 6 ounce top grain "earthtone leather."

Top yoke - 4.5 to 6 ounce top grain chap leather.

Side yoke - two slotted stamped steel conchos with strings rather than a side yoke. Basic shotgun chaps and other zipper leg chaps will have no conchos on the side of the leg.

Front belt - adjustable 5/8" latigo leather front straps with #121 buckle.

Back belt - adjustable 1.5" doubled and stitched chap leather laced on in V-braid style.

Leg straps - "only applicable to buckle leg chaps" - 4.5 to 6 ounce chap leather leg straps, two per leg with roller buckles. snap & dee leg closures will consist of 3/4" spring snaps and 3/4" dee rings.

Fringe - 6 inch standard fringe on chinks, 8 inch standard fringe on "basic" show chaps and "basic" rodeo chaps. Fringe is not standard on other chap styles.

Thread - black nylon, white is available upon request.

Zippers - applies only to zipper leg chaps, 3/4" heavy duty brass zippers.

Deluxe Chaps

The deluxe chaps come with some extra features. Those chaps that have buckle fastening legs come with three buckles and latigo leg straps, plus a side yoke. All come with a re-inforcing 3/4" strip sewn to the upper thigh, and a rolled and stitched backbelt that is laced on in a V-braid style. All deluxe chaps will have a chrome plated cart buckle on the front belt.

They come with the following standard specifications:

Leather - chap body is typically 4.5 to 6 ounce top grain leather

Top yoke - 4.5 to 6 ounce top grain chap leather.

Side yoke - 4.5 to 6 ounce top grain chap leather.

Front belt - adjustable 5/8" latigo leather front straps with deluxe chrome cart buckle.

Measuring for buckle leg chaps

When measuring for chaps it is usually best to have someone else measure for you. It is best to use a cloth tape for measuring the circumference of the leg like the thigh, calf, knee and so on. A stiffer metal tape is best for measuring the length measurements like outseam, inseam, and crotch to calf. In the descriptions below the term "snug measurement" will be used, this means the slack is pulled out of the tape but does not mean tight. It would be best to mark the measurement locations on your leg with tape or chalk to insure that they are taken in the proper locations. This will also make it easier to double check all measurements accurately.

- (1) Hip - take a snug measurement around the base of the belt loops, this will be about 4" larger than the waist size of your pants. If you want your chaps to fit higher on the waist, measure at that point at which you want the top of the chap to be located.
- (2) Outseam - the length from the base of the belt loops to the floor, with boots on. If you prefer to wear your chaps above the base of the belt loops then this measurement should be taken at that point.
- (3) Inseam - the length from the crotch to the floor with boots on.
- (6) Crotch to knee - the length from the crotch to the center of the knee-cap.
- (7) Thigh, upper - the circumference of the thigh at the crotch. Take a snug but not tight measurement.
- (9) Thigh, middle - the circumference of the leg at this point which is half way between the (7) and (11). Take a snug but not tight measurement.
- (15) Total length of chink - this measurement is required for chinks only. Our standard adult chink length from the top of the chink to the bottom of the fringe is 32". You may want them to be longer or shorter. Please provide us with the total length that you would like.
- (16) Front Rise - base of belt to crotch

Measuring for half chaps

When measuring for chaps it is usually best to have someone else measure for you. It is better to use a cloth tape for measuring the circumference of the calf and the base of the foot area. In the descriptions below the term "snug measurement" will be used, this means the slack is pulled out of the tape but does not mean tight. It would be best to mark the measurement locations on your leg with tape or chalk to insure that they are taken in the proper locations. This will also make it easier to double check all measurements accurately. It is normally best to take two separate sets of measurements and then compare the two to check for errors.

These types of chaps are not adjustable in the leg so you must take great care when measuring and make certain you are wearing all clothing that you will wear with the chaps. Important: when taking circumference measurements, leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit and provide us with this adjusted measurement. If you provide us with a snug thigh measurement you will barely be able to zip up the chap leg.

- (1) Shin length - This is the distance from the base of the knee cap (just under the knee cap) to the top of the foot or instep.
- (2) Calf to instep - This is the distance from the point at which the largest part of the calf is located to the top of the foot or instep.
- (3) Calf - the circumference of the calf. Leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit. We recommend adding 1" to a snug measurement so that there is enough slack to zip the chaps easily.
- (4) Lower leg - circumference of the lower leg. Take this measurement exactly at the mid-point between the point at which the calf measurement was taken and the point at which the top of foot or instep is located. We recommend adding 1" to a snug measurement so that there is enough slack to zip the chaps easily.
- (5) Base of foot - the circumference of the foot at the angle shown around the area from the instep to the center of the boot heel. This can be a fairly loose measurement. This tells us the size to make the bottom of the chap so that it drapes over the boot correctly.

Measuring for zipper leg chaps

This will also make it easier to double check all measurements accurately.

These types of chaps are not adjustable in the leg so you must take great care when measuring and make certain you are wearing all clothing that you will wear with the chaps, you may want to leave extra room for long underwear and etc. Important: when taking circumference measurements, leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit and provide us with this adjusted measurement. If you provide us with a snug thigh measurement you will barely be able to zip up the chap leg.

- (1) Hip - take a snug measurement around the base of the belt loops, this will be about 4" larger than the waist size of your pants. If you want your chaps to fit higher on the waist, measure at that point where you want the top of the chap to be located.

- (4) Crotch to instep - the length from the crotch to the top of the foot or instep.
- (5) Crotch to calf - the length from the crotch to the largest part of the calf.
- (6) Crotch to knee - the length from the crotch to the center of the knee-cap.
- (7) Thigh, upper - the circumference of the thigh at the crotch. Leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit.

- (8) Thigh, mid/upper - the circumference of the leg at this point which is half way between the (7) and (9). Leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit.
- (9) Thigh, middle - the circumference of the leg at this point which is half way between the (7) and (11). Leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit.
- (10) Thigh, mid/lower - the circumference of the leg at this point which is half way between the (9) and (11). Leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit.
- (11) Knee center - the circumference of the knee at the center of the knee. We will use this as a reference only. We will blend the actual chap knee between (10) and (12). If you want us to make the knee to your exact measurement then we will, but you must inform us to do so.

- (12) Calf - the circumference of the calf. Leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit. We recommend adding 2" to a snug measurement for western style shotgun chaps so the chap leg will slide up and down freely.
- (13) Lower leg - the circumference of the leg at this point located half way between (top of foot) and (12). Leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit. We recommend adding 2+" to a snug measurement for western style shotgun chaps so the leg will slide up and down freely and bell a little at the bottom. For western shotgun chaps, customers usually leave this one up to our judgement, but if you want a specific measurement here then please inform us.
- (14) Top of foot - the circumference where ankle/foot bends.. leave the tape as loose as you want the chaps to fit. For western shotgun chaps, the customer usually leaves this one up to our judgement, but if you want a specific measurement here then please inform us.
- (15) Front rise - bottom of belt to crotch.

MOTORCYCLE GLOVES

Black Deerskin

Exclusive Design - Patented in US and Canada

Our gloves impliment a unique patented design. This design pre-curves the fingers of the glove to provide a better fit and to reduce leather bulk on the underside of the fingers while gripping. Some glove designs use a four panel finger design to achieve this result. Our two panel design allows the use of a thicker supple deerskin which will provide comfort and longer glove life.

Although all our chaps are made at our facility here in the USA, due to the labor intensive nature of the production of these gloves, it is not feasible to produce them in the USA. All in-stock motorcycle gloves are imported.

B BAR B

Introducing our patented "wedge" pre-curved finger design. This patented design allows the fingers to close more easily and also reduces leather bulk inside the fingers. The benefits are longer glove life, better hand protection, and great feel. These gloves are not mass produced like most gloves, they are carefully made by a very skilled glove maker. Please place orders well in advance to avoid delays in delivery.
